Design & Development: Paul Ibbs, Tristan Hall

Setup

1066, Tears to Many Mothers can be played as a solo game, where the game takes on the role of an opposing player called a Foe. The game is played using the normal rules, except where stated in these Solo rules. It is recommended - but not required - that the player uses one of the Advanced Drafting card draw variants. The player chooses a faction for themselves and a faction for their Foe, then sets up their decks, and places their Leader as normal.

Set the Resource Dial to 'Round 1' and choose the preferred difficulty level.

Then set up the Foe as follows:

Harold Foe

1. Harold Godwinson is placed in Row 3 of Wedge 2.
2. Saxon Ceorl is placed in Wedge 2 Row 2.
3. Eadric, Deacon of Blakeney is placed in Wedge 2 Row 1.
4. The Saxon deck is placed nearby.

William Foe

1. William FitzRobert is placed in Row 3 of Wedge 2.
2. Ealdred, Archbishop of York is placed in Row 2 of Wedge 2.
3. Trumpeter is placed in Row 1 of Wedge 2.
4. The Norman deck is placed nearby.

Foe Turns

The player takes the first deployment turn, which plays as normal. Then it is the Foe's turn as follows:

- ◊ The Foe makes a single Range attack (see page 3). The Range card is Tired and then play passes back to the player; OR
- ◊ If there are no Range attacks available for the Foe, a card is drawn and played from the Foe's deck (see Foe Deployment below), and then play passes back to the player.

Foe Deployment

- Draw the top card of the Foe's deck.
- If the cost of the card is equal to or less than the Foe's Resources (i.e. its total as shown on the Resource Grid plus any resources from the Foe's Ready cards in play), that card will either be placed on the battlefield or its Event carried out (see below).
- If that card costs more than the Foe's Resources, that card is discarded and the next card is drawn. This continues until either one card is played or until the Foe's deck is depleted, in which case:
- Play then returns to the player.

The Foe does not draw a hand of cards and cannot run out of cards. Do not shuffle the Foe's discard pile if it runs out of cards, simply turn it over to create the new deck to draw from during the next Foe Deployment and the Foe skips this turn.

In summary, draw cards until:
Card Cost \leq Foe's Resources.

Playing Foe Cards

Special Note: The Foe's cards DO NOT shift on the battlefield when gaps are created, and they DO NOT Tire unless otherwise stated in these rules.

When a Foe's card is played, the action listed on that card is taken immediately if possible (including Range Attacks, see page 3). The Foe will always target the player's Range cards with damage abilities first if possible, otherwise the player chooses which of their cards or Wedges to target, prioritising existing Wedges.

Any effects that remove damage from the Foe's cards will target the most damaged card first.

Exception: unless otherwise stated, the Foe ignores the following abilities:

- Agile and movement abilities
- Bloodlust and self-damage abilities
- Family/Leader and cost discounts
- Learned and card draw abilities
- Response abilities

Placement Order

Place Characters and Units in the first available space in an existing Wedge following this order where 1 is the highest priority and 9 is the lowest:

Row 3	7	8	9
Row 2	4	5	6
Row 1	1	2	3
	Wedge 1	Wedge 2	Wedge 3

Range cards - are always placed in the first available space in the same Wedge as the player's Leader, or the player's Range cards, if possible, otherwise follow the placement order above.

Attachments - played into the same Wedge as the player's Leader if possible, otherwise: player's choice, but always into an existing Wedge.

Events - can only be played if the action can be taken at that time.

- If the drawn Event cannot be played, simply discard it and draw again.
- For card discount Events, draw another card and apply the discount to the next playable card - i.e. draw until a card can be paid for AND played.
- For Events with more than one action listed, the player chooses one that can be taken, if possible.

Tactics - played as written.

Passing (end of round)

After the player passes the Foe will continue its turn. In the following order it will:

- Tire each Ready Range card to use its Range ability (unless at Battle of Hastings Objective),
- Draw and play one more card,
- Move the first player marker on the Resource Grid down one step to cover the current round space and show the new Foe Resources total,
- Pass - the Deployment Phase is now over.

Foe's Battlefield is full

When the Foe's Battlefield is full:

- ◊ The card drawn will replace the lowest cost card in an existing Wedge (that is not Tired or Range), as long as the card to be replaced costs less than the card drawn.
- ◊ If there is a tie for the lowest value card on the battlefield, the player chooses which card to replace.
- ◊ Range cards replace lower cost and same cost cards - if there is a tie for which card to replace, they prioritise:
 - Player Leader's Wedge
 - Player Range card's Wedge
 - Row 1
 - Player's choice

Range cards cannot be replaced by higher cost cards.

- ◊ Cavalry cards will prioritise replacing cards in Row 3 if tied.
- ◊ Shielding cards will prioritise replacing cards in Row 1 if tied.
- ◊ If the card drawn cannot replace a lower cost card, it will not be played - discard it and the Foe will not play a card at that time. Play then returns to the player.

Foe Range Attacks

The Foe's cards with 'Range X' abilities (AKA Range attacks) always target the player's Range cards if possible. Otherwise the player chooses which of his cards are targeted, and the order in which the Range attacks occur.

Exception: If both factions are at the Battle of Hastings Objective, the Foe will only use Range attacks if they are losing the Might battle in the Range card's Wedge. Compare Might values once before making the card's Range attack. If it does not make the Range attack, continue with the Foe's turn as normal.

Objectives

Play using Objectives as normal, but both factions ignore all 'when destroyed' special rules and simply move on to the next Objective.

After Objective A, each time the player (not the Foe) destroys an Objective they may draw one card.

'Commander' abilities

The Foe Leader's Commander ability is only ever triggered if the Foe Leader's Wedge has been taken. In this case the Foe Leader will move to another existing Wedge (with the least total Might - player breaks ties) as their next Draw card turn, following Placement Order, and replacing the lowest cost card if necessary. The player's Leader plays as normal.

Scoring

Win or lose, the player's total points for the game are calculated to find out how well they did:

- ◊ 1 point for each damage token the player placed on a Wedge
- ◊ 5 points for a player victory
- ◊ 5 points for each level beyond Easy
- ◊ 30 bonus points for killing the Foe's Leader

POINTS	RATING
0-10	KNAVE
11-20	SOLDIER
21-30	KNIGHT
31-40	VASSAL
41-50	DUKE
50-60	KING
61+	CONQUEROR!

'Solo:' abilities

When the Foe plays a card with a Solo: ability, ignore the other card abilities and immediately carry out the Solo: instructions instead.

When the player plays a card with a Solo: ability, they may choose to play the card as normal, if applicable, or use the Solo: ability effect instead, if applicable.

Special Note: If there is ever any uncertainty about the Foe's action the player always chooses from those available, and always prioritises existing Wedges, even if it is to the player's benefit.

Foe Turn Summary

1. Range Attack and Tire card*, play passes back to player. If no Range Attacks available, go to 2.
* (at Battle of Hastings, Range Attacks only happen if the Foe is losing the Might Battle in the Range card's Wedge)
2. Draw card:
 - a. if cost </= Foe resources, go to 3.
 - b. if cost > Foe resources, discard and repeat 2.
 - c. if Foe deck is empty, flip it, and skip Foe turn.

3. ◊ If Event: resolve one action (player's choice).
- ◊ If Army: play card into battlefield, following placement order. If battlefield is full and no lower cost card is available, discard and go to 4.
4. Play passes back to the player.
Exception: If the player already passed, the Foe:
 - ◊ attacks with each Ready Range card,
 - ◊ then draws and plays a card,
 - ◊ then the Phase ends.

Foe Resource Dial

The Foe's Resources value is equal to: the Resources on the Foe's Ready cards in play added to its resource value on the Resource Dial.

During the first round the Foe will have:

- ◊ -1 Resource on the Resource Grid (in Easy, Normal, or Hard mode), and
- ◊ +1 Resource symbol on Saxon Ceorl (for the Saxon Foe), OR
- ◊ +1 Resource symbol on Ealdred (for the Norman Foe).

This means that on Easy, Normal, or Hard mode, the Foe effectively starts with a total of 0 resources, and will be looking for a 0 cost card to play during the first round.

The Foe can never have less than 0 resources.

Experienced players should use one of the Advanced Drafting Variants on page 4 of the main rules.

For a more difficult game, use the Advanced Range Attacks Variant on page 7 of the main rules too.

'Player's Choice' - Whenever a Player's Choice option presents itself the player may play the Foe to their greatest benefit. But for a real challenge, whenever Player's Choice is an option, always choose the option most detrimental to the player.

Quick-Play Setup

This option makes setup slightly longer but considerably speeds up gameplay:

- ◊ Shuffle all the Foe's 0 Cost cards into a pile.
- ◊ Do the same for all the 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 Cost cards, shuffling them into separate piles.
- ◊ Only play with the 0 Cost cards to start with.
- ◊ Once the Foe's Resource value reaches a total of 1, shuffle the 1 Cost cards together with the 0 Cost cards.
- ◊ Do the same for the 2, 3, 4, and 5 Cost card piles as and when the Foe's resource value requires them.
