

HEROES OF BARCADIA™

Kickstarter Edition

Heroes from all across Barcadia have gathered to claim glory in the realm's greatest drinking competition! Alas, on the eve of the festivities a band of monsters have stolen all the drinks and hoarded them somewhere in a mysterious, sprawling dungeon! Do you have what it takes to outmaneuver your opponents and become the hero who reclaims the precious Drink Hoard?

Object of the Game

The object of Heroes of Barcadia is to be the first player to collect three Power-Ups and reclaim the Drink Hoard by defeating the Grand Drink Guardian (see Drink Hoard, pg.4). There is only one Drink Hoard in the dungeon, and it could be anywhere! Explore the dungeon to find it as you collect rewards by battling Monsters and Bosses. Don't let your Health Bar Cup hit empty or it's back to the Starting Point with you!

Game Components

6 Health Bar Cups

6 20-Sided Dice (D20)

57 Rooms

15 Traps

75 Loot Cards

+7 Stretch Goal Loot Cards

25 Power-Ups

+9 Stretch Goal Power-Ups

6 Reference Cards

+1 Turn Tracker

+6 Signature Move Cards

+5 DIY Loot Cards

+10 House Rule Cards

+1 Liquornomicon

Setting up the Game

- 1 Place the Starting Point, which consists of seven rooms with a wooden pattern (see Starting Point, pg.3). If you are just learning to play, we suggest creating the layout shown in the example.
- 2 Each player selects a Health Bar Cup and fills it to the "FULL" line with a beverage of their choice. They then place their respective cups onto the Starting Point.
- 3 Shuffle the remaining 50 rooms face down with the identical stone pattern sides facing up. Make sure the "Drink Hoard" room is mixed in. **If playing with 2-3 players, we recommend you remove 20 rooms from the dungeon in the following amounts: 2x Magic Pourtal, 4x Rewards, 4x Bosses, & 10x Monsters. Please note that with fewer players, each player is likely to take more damage during the game.*
- 4 Equally distribute the rooms amongst all the players. You then build the dungeon together by placing the rooms, keeping them face down the entire time. Each room must be built off of the Starting Point or off of another room. Otherwise, you may build in any direction you choose. Continue until all the rooms are placed.
- 5 Shuffle the deck of Loot Cards and the deck of Power-Ups, setting them both face down near the dungeon. Deal 3 Loot Cards to each player. Players may look at their Loot Cards.
- 6 Finally, each player rolls a 20-sided die (D20). The player with the highest roll will have the first turn, and starts with the Turn Tracker.

Example of an acceptable dungeon once all rooms have been placed

- 1 Starting Point
- 2 A Room
- 3 Loot Cards
- 4 Power-Ups
- 5 Traps
- 6 Turn Tracker

The Game Turn

- All movement is made with a player's Health Bar Cup.
- Each player may complete ONE action per turn. There are three types of actions:

1 Reveal & Enter A Room

The player reveals one room adjacent to the room they occupy by flipping it over. The type of room the player reveals will determine what they must do to enter it (see Types of Rooms, pg.3). For example, if a player reveals a Monster, they must defeat that Monster to enter.

2 Enter Revealed Rooms

The player may enter up to two revealed rooms that are adjacent to the room they occupy. The player may enter just one revealed room if they choose, but this still counts as a full action.

3 Attempt to claim the Drink Hoard

If the Drink Hoard is revealed, the player is adjacent to it, and they have three Power-Ups, then they may attempt to claim it by battling the Grand Drink Guardian. Defeat it to win the game!

- A player's turn ends when they cannot move their Health Bar Cup any further.
- Between each turn, all players can play as many Loot Cards from their hand as they want. The Loot Cards must say 'play between turns' to be used at this time.
- Once the Loot Cards are played, the player clockwise to the previous player is handed the Turn Tracker and begins their turn.

Types of Rooms

There are several different types of rooms in the dungeon. Only one player may occupy a room at a time excluding the Starting Point (see below).

THE Starting Point

All players begin the game on the Starting Point. The Starting Point consists of seven hexes, but counts as a single room. This means that while standing on any part of the Starting Point, a player has access to all rooms adjacent to the entire Starting Point. Once the Starting Point is placed at the beginning of the game, it cannot be moved by the effects of Loot Cards or Power-Ups.

- All six players may occupy the Starting Point at the same time.
- The Starting Point may not be trapped.
- The Starting Point is a Magic Pourtal (see Magic Pourtals, pg. 4).

Monsters

When a player reveals a Monster, they must battle it by rolling a D20. The player must roll a number equal to or higher than the Monster's level to defeat it. Otherwise, they lose the battle.

- If the player loses, the Monster is placed face down in the same position. The player may not progress forward into the room. The player must then drink a portion of HP out of their Health Bar Cup equal to the Monster's attack damage.
- If the player wins, the Monster is defeated and remains revealed for the rest of the game. The player progresses into the room and claims the reward for defeating the Monster. Once a Monster is defeated, any player may enter that room without a battle. They will not receive any rewards upon entry.

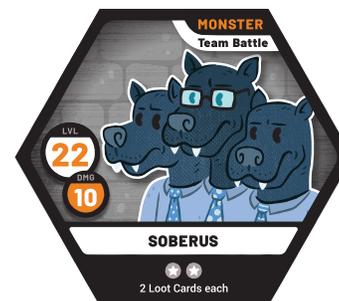

- 1 Monster's Level
- 2 Monster's Attack Damage
- 3 Monster's Name
- 4 Reward for defeating Monster

Monster Team Battles

Monster Team Battles are the same as Monster Battles with a few exceptions. When a player reveals a Monster Team Battle, they must choose another player from the group to be their teammate. Both players roll a D20, adding their rolls together to defeat the Monster Team Battle's level.

- If the players lose, they both drink HP equal to the Monster Team Battle's attack damage.
- If the players win, both players get the reward for defeating the Monster Team Battle.

Rewards

When a player reveals a Reward, they enter the room without a battle. Rewards grant you Loot Cards or Power-Ups which you collect immediately upon entering.

- When a Reward is revealed, it remains revealed for the rest of the game.
- A Reward works only once per game for the player who first reveals it.

Magic Pountals

When a player reveals a Magic Pountal they enter the room without a battle. When standing on a Magic Pountal during their turn, a player may choose to teleport to another revealed Magic Pountal.

- Using a Magic Pountal does not count as an action.
- Once revealed, a Magic Pountal remains revealed for the rest of the game.
- A player may use only one Magic Pountal per turn.
- The Starting Point is a Magic Pountal.

Bosses

When a player reveals a Boss, they must choose another player from the group to be their opponent. That opponent will embody the role of the Boss for that battle. Both player and Boss roll a D20. The higher number wins, ignoring ties.

- Some Power-Ups grant additional attack power to a player in a Boss battle. These Power-Ups apply regardless of whether the player is challenging a Boss or acting as one.
- If the player loses, the Boss is placed face down in the same position. The player may not progress forward into the room and no rewards are given. The player must then drink a portion of HP out of their Health Bar Cup equal to the Boss's attack damage.
- If the player wins, the Boss is defeated and remains revealed for the rest of the game. The player progresses into the room and claims the reward for defeating the Boss. Once a Boss is defeated, any player may enter that room without a battle. They will not receive any rewards upon entry. The player acting as the Boss must then drink a portion of HP out of their Health Bar Cup equal to the Boss's attack damage.

- 1 Boss's Attack Damage
- 2 Boss's Name
- 3 Reward for defeating Boss

THE Drink Hoard

When a player reveals the Drink Hoard, they may attempt to claim it by battling the Grand Drink Guardian—provided they have three Power-Ups. The player must roll a number equal to or higher than the Grand Drink Guardian's level to defeat it, otherwise they lose the battle.

- When the Drink Hoard is revealed, it remains revealed for the rest of the game. It cannot be entered unless you defeat it.
- Power-Ups and Loot Cards that apply only to Monster and Boss battles may not be used during battles with the Grand Drink Guardian.

If the player loses, the Drink Hoard remains revealed, but the player cannot progress forward into the room. The player must drink a portion of HP out of their Health Bar Cup equal to the Grand Drink Guardian's attack damage.

If the player wins the battle, they progress into the room and win the game! Huzzah!

- 1 Grand Drink Guardian's Level
- 2 Grand Drink Guardian's Attack Damage

The Kickstarter edition of the game includes two copies of the Drink Hoard! One is extra shiny, and the other features the standard artwork. You choose which to include in the dungeon, but make sure to only play with one copy at a time!

◆ Loot Cards ◆

Loot Cards have various effects to assist you or hinder your opponents. They are acquired by defeating Monsters, Bosses, and encountering Rewards in the dungeon. Loot Cards are held in your hand, for your eyes only.

- ◆ Loot Cards must be played at specific times during gameplay, such as “Between turns” or “During your turn”. This is noted at the top of each card. Otherwise, there is no limit to the number of cards you play at any given time.
- ◆ Loot Cards are discarded when their effect is used.
- ◆ There is no limit to the number of Loot Cards a player may have in their hand.
- ◆ If the deck of Loot Cards runs out, shuffle the discard pile to create a fresh deck.

- 1 Name of card
- 2 When card can be played
- 3 Card effect

◆ Power-Ups ◆

Power-Ups are acquired by defeating Monsters, Bosses, and encountering Rewards in the dungeon. When a player collects a Power-Up, they must place it face-up on the table in front of them. The Power-Up grants a permanent ability that the player can repeatedly use as long as the card remains in their possession. Collect three Power-Ups for the ability to challenge the Grand Drink Guardian and attempt to win the game!

- ◆ Players may not have more than three Power-Ups at a time. If a player receives a fourth Power-Up, they must discard one of their choice. They do this by placing it in any unoccupied room of the dungeon, excluding the Drink Hoard if it is revealed. The next player to enter that room claims the Power-Up for themselves.

◆ Duels ◆

If a player wishes to move into an adjacent room that is occupied by an opponent, the player may choose to “Duel” the opponent for their spot. A player may only initiate a duel on their turn before they have completed an action.

- 1 Both players roll the D20. The highest number is the winner. Ignore ties.
  - 2 The loser of the duel must drink 10HP from their Health Bar Cup.
  - 3 If the attacking player wins, they trade rooms with the opponent and may continue their turn. If the attacking player loses, they do not move into the opponent’s room and may continue their turn.
- ◆ Dueling does not count as an action.
  - ◆ A player may only duel once per turn.
  - ◆ If an opponent is standing on a Magic Poutal that you wish to teleport to, you may duel them through the Magic Poutal.

Traps

The Trap Loot Card can be used to place a trap in any room of the dungeon that is unoccupied, including the Drink Hoard. It is possible to place up to three traps in a single room. If a player wishes to enter or reveal a room that is trapped, they must first roll a 10 or higher to disarm each trap.

- If the player successfully disarms the trap, the trap disappears and they may enter or reveal the room.
- If the player fails to disarm the trap, they take 10HP damage. The trap disappears and they may enter or reveal the room.

Taking Damage and Death

When a player takes damage, they must drink a specified amount of HP from their Health Bar Cup. Use the markings on the side of the cup to determine how much to drink. When a player's HP is gone, they are dead. They must then do the following:

- 1 The dead player must drop one of their Power-Ups in the room they were standing in when they died. If they do not have any Power-Ups, ignore this step. The next player to enter that room claims the Power-Up for themselves. If a player dies while standing on the Starting Point, they simply discard the Power-Up and place it back on the bottom of the deck.
- 2 The dead player must then discard all of their Loot Cards except for one of their choice.
- 3 The dead player then moves their Health Bar Cup back to the Starting Point, fills their HP back to "FULL", and they may continue their next turn as normal.

Exclusive Goodies!

Congratulations on snagging the Kickstarter Exclusive version of Heroes of Barcadia! In addition to the extra Loot Cards, Power-Ups and Rooms in the game here are some other goodies that we included, only for discerning adventurers like yourself. Huzzah!

Signature Moves

Signature Move cards grant players unique abilities based off which character they are playing as. Hand them out to the corresponding players at the beginning of a game. They are placed face-up on the table, like Power-Ups.

House Rules

At the start of a game, shuffle the House Rules and place them face down. Draw one and place it on the Starting Point. The rule on the card applies to all players. Whenever a player rolls a 20 replace the House Rule with a new one from the deck.

DIY Loot Cards

Here is your chance to play God! These cards allow you to create your own custom Loot Card effects.

And don't forget about the Liquornomicon, a powerful tome of brews and potions!

Common Questions

Can I use a Loot Card that I received during my turn? Yes, you can! For example, say it's your turn and you used your action to reveal a room. The room is a Monster and you defeat it, gaining you a Loot Card. The Loot Card happens to be a Dash. You are allowed to use that Dash Loot Card to gain another action during the same turn.

Does the Room Swap Loot Card also move traps and Power-Ups? Yes, when you use a Room Swap, any traps or Power-Ups in the rooms are moved as well.

Can I initiate a duel after using a Magic Poutal? Yes, a player may initiate a duel on their turn, but it must be done before they have completed an action. Using a Magic Poutal doesn't count as an action, so go for it!

Can I pass through the Drink Hoard without a battle? No, you cannot enter the Drink Hoard room unless you have defeated the Grand Drink Guardian and won the game. Sorry, you'll have to find another way around!

Do Drain and Boost Loot Cards remain in effect if a player uses a Redo? No, playing a Redo Loot Card after losing a battle removes any loot effects from the previous battle. For example, say a player reveals a Monster, and one of their opponents plays a Mega Boost Loot Card to add +4 to the Monster's level. The player rolls the die and loses the battle, BUT they play a Redo Loot Card to try the battle again. For this second attempt, the Mega Boost Loot Card is no longer active, which means the Monster's level reverts back to normal.

Can I use a Thirst Aid Loot Card to avoid drinking? No, you cannot forego drinking damage because you plan to heal yourself afterward. For example, say you lost a Monster battle and took 10HP damage, but you have a Thirst Aid Loot Card in your hand and plan to heal yourself 10HP between turns. You must drink the 10HP damage first, and then refill back to the same level.

I failed to disarm a trap. Does that end my turn? No, rolling to disarm traps does not count as an action, so even if you fail to disarm one, or several, you may still continue to reveal and enter a room.

What should I do if I get stranded by the Drink Hoard? It is possible that a player could get completely cut-off from the rest of the dungeon because they do not have three Power-Ups, and the revealed Drink Hoard stands in their way. If you...

- Cannot access a Magic Poutal
- Have no more rooms available for you to reveal
- And have no Loot Cards or Power-Ups that allow you to escape

Then, and only then, you may use your turn to teleport back to the Starting Point.

For Experienced Players

If you are looking for ways to change things up, consider these additional rules for experienced players.

- Versatile Starting Point: Try building the Starting Point in a different layout than the standard ring (see example to the right). The only rule is that the rooms must remain connected. Otherwise, the Starting Point functions exactly the same as in the standard layout.
- Crit Failure / Crit Victory: Any time a player rolls a 1 they must give one of their Loot Cards to an opponent of their choice, and any time a player rolls a 20, they may draw one Loot Card.
- Power Traps: Players may place a trap on an opponent's Power-Up to block them from using the card's ability. The opponent can disarm the trap during their turn by rolling a 10 or higher. If they fail, the trap remains in place, and they may try again on their next turn. The trap is removed if the Power-Up is stolen by another player or placed into the dungeon. Only one trap may be placed on a Power-Up at a time.
- Power-Up Frenzy Game Mode: In this game mode, the objective is to have the most Power-Ups once all the rooms of the dungeon have been revealed. There is no limit to the amount of Power-Ups that a player can keep. Defeating the Grand Drink Guardian does not grant you victory in this mode, but instead rewards you with two Power-Ups. Once all the rooms are revealed and all the Monsters and Bosses in the dungeon are defeated the game is over, and the player with the most Power-Ups wins.

Game Design and Illustrations by Maddy O'Neil

Special thanks to the playtesters and everyone who helped to make this game a reality:

Megan Blair, Erin Zipperle, Conrad Pflumm, Erica Jones, Lisa Bell, Colby Fayock, Michael Baker, Zack Trolier, Jamie Grove, Esmee Kuenen, Jonathan Askew, Erica de la Vega, David Hemenway, Kathryn Pagoni, Matt Hurst, Laura Mahoney, Max Grove, Helen Maringer, Phil Hatch, Cedric Delobelle, Jordan Scott, Wes Talbott, Lillie Talbott, Ioana Popescu, Austin Carlson, Crystal Fontan, Adam Corbally, Alice Millard, Cindy O'Neil, Matt Steinberger, Rachael Fulginiti, James Stephenson, Tom Parry, Matt Parsons, Chris McVeigh, Mathew Boyle, Mathew Kipling, Callan Kemp, Cody Cearley, Nan Juthamard, Diego Sancho, Wouter van Vugt, Cecilie Witt Jensen, Kenza Faten, Pame Zelaya, Dan Velarde, Tobey Brown, Adrian Florea, Kike Belmonte, Alice Geiger, Ollie Gregory, Ricardo Silva, Pablo Gonzalez, Milan Reindl, Chris Johansen, Anders Pedersen, and all our heroic Kickstarter backers!

Please Adventure Responsibly

Heroes of Barcadia™ has adult drinking references, but may be played with any liquid. Playing with solids or gases is also possible, but more difficult. We do not recommend misuse of alcohol including excessive consumption, drinking and driving/boating/jousting, and/or underage drinking. Heroes of Barcadia™ was designed to be a fun, casual, and lighthearted experience, so please dungeon crawl accordingly. We believe in moderation when playing our game, and encourage all heroes to decline drinking if they do not wish to drink (while still tracking their HP according to the rules of the game). We recommend that all players make arrangements for their personal safety and horse carriage transportation before playing.

DISCLAIMER: Rollacrit Corp., its heirs, assigns, representatives, employees and agents bear no responsibility and are not liable for special or consequential damages resulting from the use, misuse, inability to use, or interpretation of the contents of this product regardless of whether Rollacrit Corp. has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

www.Rollacrit.com